Library Catalogue

The Library Catalogue (HealthCat) is available from work and home at http://qhlibraries.slq.qld.gov.au/

It lists the resources held at 16 Queensland Health Libraries. It is possible to limit your search results to Redland Hospital Library.
Purpose

To provide a range of services and information which enhance the provision of patient care, research, education and management undertaken by the staff of:

- Redland and Wynnum Hospitals and Marie Rose Centre, including: Redland Health Service Centre, Wynnum Health Service Centre, Dunwich Health Service Centre
- Redland Residential Care
- Bayside Mental Health Service, including Casuarina Lodge and Yugaipa Mental Health Unit.

University Students on Placement

Unfortunately we do not loan to University Students, however they may use the library facilities, read books within the library and use the Wifi.

There are two University of Queensland computers available for UQ students, staff and associates to use. These require a current UQ Login and password.

There is also a small UQ book collection near the front entrance. These books are not for loan and can only be read within the library.

Borrowing

Clients are required to complete a Patron Registration Form. Print copies are located on the library reception counter, or there is an online form available; http://reg.qhlibraries.slq.qld.gov.au

Due to the high level of staff movement within Queensland Health, it is mandatory to give a point of contact outside of Queensland Health e.g. mobile number and home address.

If the library is unstaffed when you borrow, please fill out a loan sheet located on the shelf at the entrance to the library.

Clients may borrow up to 5 items at a time. Items may be borrowed for three weeks. If items are required for longer, contact the library with the relevant details (book title, employee number, etc.) to arrange an extension. It is also possible to renew items yourself by logging into the catalogue.

Items from the Reference collection are not available for loan.

Returns Box

This is located just inside the entrance to the library.

New Resources

New resources are displayed on the display wall near the couch in the library.
Inter-Library Loans

Due to cost limitations, there are restrictions on this service. We only conduct inter-library loans from other Queensland Health Libraries or another QLD Government Library.

Book Requests may be made online via the link on the QH Libraries internet page:

These should be completed with the full details of the book required. Allow 3-7 working days for receipt of the requested item.

Electronic Books

The library has a large range of clinically relevant electronic books available from work and home that are not listed on CKN. You may access these electronic books at:

You will be required to enter your Queensland Health employee number and your surname to access the ebooks. You must also be currently registered with Queensland Health Libraries.

Photocopying

A multifunction machine is available free of charge to print, copy and scan. There is no fax facility.

Literature Searches

The Library provides a literature search service saving you time and utilising the expertise of library staff. Contact the Library, or complete the online request form -

Please be sure to define the topic clearly - be as specific as possible regarding alternative terms, subject area, keywords, synonyms, trade names, country, time period, languages etc.

Computer Access

Three computers are available in the library for staff to access the internet and the Queensland Health Network (QHEPS).

Two University of Queensland computers are available to UQ staff and students only. They require a UQ login and password.

Free Wifi

Free Wifi is available 24/7 in the library. You are welcome to bring in your own devices, e.g. ipad, laptops, mobile phones to access the Wifi.

The network name is ‘Library - Redland Hospital’. The password is posted on signs within the Library.
Electronic Resources

Are you aware of the Clinical Knowledge Network (CKN)? CKN provides a range of electronic resources including point-of-care tools, databases, drug information, electronic journals and some e-books.

Databases include Medline (EBSCO), CINAHL (EBSCO), PsycINFO (EBSCO), Clinical Key Australia, MIMS, Micromedex and the Cochrane Library. Point-of-care tools include DynaMed, Isabel, Best Practice and PEMSoft.

To access CKN at work, open the Mozilla Firefox browser (NOT Internet Explorer 6) to the QHEPS homepage and click the CKN tab.

If you wish to access CKN from home, register online via the CKN Registration link on the CKN homepage from work. https://www.ckn.org.au/register

Once you have registered, an email will be sent to your QLD Health email asking you to click on a link to complete the registration process.

When accessing CKN from home, the Web address is: http://www.ckn.org.au.

Access is by your QLD Health email and the password you chose when you registered. If you have any difficulties with your CKN registration, you can phone CKN support on 1300 308 174.

Journal Articles

How to find full text, copies of articles

1. Searching the internet for articles does not mean you will find the full text. Many publishers require payment for a subscription or for individual articles.

2. Some free journals are available, e.g. PubMed Central Open Access site.

3. Always go to CKN e-Journals first to see if the journal is available online via Queensland Health. Remember to check if your article is within the online access dates e.g. 2004 – current or 2003-2009

4. Register for remote access to CKN if you want to search for journals from home.

5. When you search CKN research databases like Medline, CINAHL and PsycINFO (instead of PubMed or Google Scholar), you will see a CHECK CKN link which will automatically search CKN e-Journals if the PDF is not available.

6. Still can’t find the article you want? Is your required article outside the online access parameters? Use this form to request the article http://www.health.qld.gov.au/libraries/doc-supply.asp. Make sure you choose Metro South – Redland Hospital Library. We will source and email the article to you when it is obtained.

Information Literacy Training @ Redland Hospital

Do your information literacy skills need a refresh? Feel you need to book in for a one-on-one training session? Would you like an in-service at your workplace?

Contact the library via email or tel. 3488-3289 for a list of topics on offer.
Subject Guides

Queensland Health Libraries have created online subject specialty guides that provide links to evidence-based literature from medical databases, links to full text electronic books, RSS feeds from relevant journals and links to our catalogue of resources.

Some examples of topics include; Asthma, Heart Failure, COPD, Lung Cancer, Stroke, Supervision, Medical Education and Pressure Injury.

The guides are available from work and home at: http://www.health.qld.gov.au/libraries/guides.asp
